Are you seeking a remarkable life adventure in one of the world's greatest nature hotspots? St Helena is a peaceful, multi-ethnic British Overseas Territory of 4,000 people in the South Atlantic, undergoing significant political, demographic and financial change.

We're looking for a new Head of the Public Service to lead our team of around 900 in finding creative solutions to the island's evolving challenges. With a new Legislative Council election due, and major infrastructure like an airport and port already in place, there's much more to do.

If you're a visionary, solutions-focused and resilient C-level leader who delivers impact both individually and through others, we want to hear from you. This is a strategic, hands-on role with the chance to make a real difference in a close-knit, ambitious community.

Apply by Friday 20 June, 11:59pm
